

Intent:

What do we want children to learn?

At Grange Junior School, we want our children to experience fun, engaging and exciting English lessons and develop their love of reading, writing and discussion. We aim to inspire an appreciation of the subject and gain a habit of reading widely and often. We want our children to take pride in their writing, write clearly and accurately for different purposes and audiences as well as adapt their language and style for a range of contexts.

English in a Nutshell

Implementation:

How do we do it at Grange Juniors?

At Grange Juniors we help each individual to become a confident reader and writer and nurture a love for a varied, rich reading diet which encompasses different cultures, periods, styles and perspectives. We base our lessons around a core text and plan our reading and writing sessions in three phases - building and developing on knowledge, understanding and learning at every level.

Impact:

On leaving Grange Junior School children will:

When children leave us, we want them to have experienced a creative learning journey no matter what their starting points were. The high-quality texts used and the engaging use of multimedia ensures English is a fun, creative and inspirational subject that instils a love of language which we hope the children will keep as they move on in their education.

What English looks like at Grange Junior School...

Every term, staff base their lessons around a core text and plan their reading and writing sessions in three distinct phases – each one spiralling into the next - building and developing on knowledge, understanding and learning at every level. This process ensures all children have the same starting point in their learning and every child is able to access the work.
